

Beatitude Attitudes

In Matthew 5:3–10, Jesus teaches us eight attitudes, called Beatitudes, that we are to BE in our daily lives. Reread them and find the bolded words in the word search.

Blessed are . . .

the poor in SPIRIT (people who admit they need God's help).

those who MOURN (who have a deep sorrow or sadness for someone who has died or for a significant loss).

the MEEK (gentle people who put others first).

those who hunger and thirst after RIGHTEOUSNESS (people who long to be like Jesus).

the MERCIFUL (people who show kindness and forgiveness to others).

the pure in HEART (people who strive to be true to God).

the PEACEMAKERS (people who try to get along with others and don't start arguments).

those who are PERSECUTED (Christians who face harsh treatments because of their faith).

It's not always easy to have these attitudes, and we definitely can't do it on our own; we need Jesus' help.

No matter how hard it is to live out the Beatitudes, we should do our best. The rewards are worth it, and others will see Jesus in us.
